Dicentra Formosa

Pacific bleeding heart

General:

Is a 16-18 inch perennial with clusters of delicate, pendant, delicate pink flowers in summer. A rock garden plant that grows in damp places. Spread slowly from rhizomes. This Dicentra likes shade in the heat of California’s central valley.

- shade to partial shade in the Redding area heat
- moderate to regular water
- hummingbirds